RE: Canadian Cancer Care

A privately owned cancer clinic has opened in Edmonton by the name of Canadian Cancer Care.

Please note that Canadian Cancer Care has no affiliation with Alberta Health Services, CancerControl Alberta, or the Cross Cancer Institute.

As is standard practice, Alberta Health Services does not endorse the recommendation of specific primary care physicians or clinics to patients in our facilities.

If a patient of Alberta Health Services does not have a family physician or expresses a desire to replace their current family physician, AHS personnel refers the patient to their local primary care network and/or the College of Physicians and Surgeons for information about physicians who may be able to assume their care.
